The Magnolia Association of Walters, in an dress to the Central Labor Union, complains that the proprietors of Dennett's have violated an agreement entered into in settlement of the last strike by which there were to be none but union waiters employed and at union wages. The address says the the corporation known as "Dennett's" employing young wemen at about half the wages paid to union walters, and that when women figure as enemies of organized labor. sentiment and gallantry are out of place.

There were only four of these night waiters on duty at the time of the strike. Two had sinded their day's work at midnight, and from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M .- the "rush" hours.

Mr. Swayne, of the firm of Dennett's, and Manager Charlton were interviewed on the trouble to-day. Mr. Swayne said: " The Park Row gang 'came in about 1 o'clock, and when they went out our watters went with them. I don't know what it's all about. The men ives didn't know. "More indictments and complaints were actually disposed of last year than in any previous year in the history of the county, the number exceeding 4,100.

"But, notwithstanding this enormous amount of work performed by my office, the current business of the year was so large that I found myself at the beginning of the year with 1,400 indictments pending for felonies and misdemeanors where the defendants were at large on bail, besides the usual number of excise complaints. In other words, I had made a reduction in the accumulation of only 100 cases.

"There is no practical way of reforming such a victous system as this except by the establishment as quickly as possible of increased court facilities.

"The present situation is even worse than that of last year, because, while last year! I was able to induce the supreme dependent.
